Subject: Police Station UPS Replacement

Teresa, I have completed my review of the low bidder for the Police Station UPS replacement. The low bidder, Vision Technologies, is primarily a telecommunication company that provides and installs telephone systems. The only UPS project they submitted on the bidder reference form is related to a telephone system installation. Our project is for a critical power UPS for police station operations including radio/dispatch equipment and systems, 911 system back up, emergency lighting, video surveillance systems and other critical building loads and also includes power conditioning for these critical loads. As such, I am concerned that Vision has not demonstrated significant experience with such critical installations and operations. Therefore, I would recommend that this project be awarded to the next lowest bidder, Carousel Industries. Carousel has demonstrated significant experience with the supply and installation of UPS systems in installations similar to ours and I feel confident that they will be able to effectively complete this project.
